CAC Grading announces accepting submissions for the first time at a show at the new International Money Exposition (IMEX) in Nashville, Tennessee, October 27-28, 2023.

Virginia Beach, Virginia – John Albanese, Founder of CAC and CAC Grading, has announced that CAC will be attending the inaugural International Money Exposition (IMEX) in Nashville, Tennessee October 27-28, 2023. “IMEX will be the first new major coin convention in 30 years” stated Albanese, “IMEX and CAC Grading coming together in a new venue is exciting for the numismatic hobby and business!” This will mark the first time CAC is going to be accepting submissions at a show*.

CAC Grading will be at booth numbers 1300, 1302 and 1304, displaying portions of its official grading set and offering samples of its newly designed holder. Submissions will be accepted on-site to be returned to the newly designed facility for grading and encapsulation. Information about CAC Grading, submissions, and a roster of CAC Authorized Submission Centers will also be available at the booth.

“There is tremendous excitement about the Nashville IMEX Convention, and we are looking forward to a great turnout,” stated Brian Kint, CFO of CAC Grading. “CAC Grading has been highly anticipated, and we look forward to meeting so many of the people that have made CAC possible over the years.”

We look forward to you joining us in downtown Nashville this October.

*Please note that CAC Grading will be accepting submissions to be transported back to and processed at our offices; grading will not take place on-site nor will coins be returned at the event.
